Cardiology

- Our Cardiology department does important work every day, in a critical area of healthcare that touches many lives.
- Heart disease affects millions the world over, and our cardiology department makes a vital contribution to this critical fight.

Managed by a panel of highly qualified and experienced cardio specialists and utilising some of the most advanced treatments in modern medicine, we take a holistic view of the critical area of heart health. With the aid of cutting-edge technology, we offer preventative, diagnostic and therapeutic services for all cardiovascular disorders.

Cardiac arrest can occur without warning and our team of medical professionals is trained to respond to such emergencies, making a difference when it counts most. We also specialise in post-event therapy, developing programmes for each patient to shorten recovery times and to help you live a heart healthy lifestyle.
